WHY DO THEY TASTE SO GOOD?

Good bread is hard to find. Most sandwiches are now made with bread that is partly baked and then frozen until needed. Not Zigo. Our bread is baked from scratch and delivered fresh each morning. Inside this bread we place superb ingredients. Our prosciutto is the real thing imported from Parma. The tomatoes are vine-ripened. Our carrots are so fresh they may have been picked that morning. The results are delicious sandwiches and wraps.

We have many clients for whom Zigo is more than just a caterer – we manage their entire food service. This means we will meet with you regularly to plan your food needs. We maintain detailed records of individual preferences and manage your menu rotation to ensure that it always includes a range of fresh new options.

Because we put a lot effort into making sure each order is perfect, we generally only accept catering orders for a minimum of 10 people or $150.00. We appreciate 24-hours notice on all orders (48-hours for entrée platters).

Our delivery charges vary based upon distance and quantities. Our drivers will be happy to setup your order at no additional charge. However, there will generally be an additional charge if we need to return after the event to pick up equipment.

The prices in this menu are correct at the date of printing (November 2008). Our prices sometimes change to reflect the cost of ingredients. You can always check for changes by downloading the current menu from our website: www.zigo.biz.

DANISH PASTRY HOUSE

Meet Kathleen

Kathleen is one of the reasons that our sandwiches taste so good. She owns the Danish Pastry House (DPH) which supplies all of the bread that we use at Zigo. Every morning, while most of us are still sleeping, their bakers are busy baking delicious bread. They bake from scratch using ingredients (and bakers) imported from Denmark. The result is simply the best bread in Boston.

DPH opened about the same time as Zigo and we were one of their first wholesale customers. Our businesses have grown together and we continue to work closely to contribute to each other’s success.

You can find DPH’s products at Zigo (we also sell their pastries), at farmers’ markets and at their own stores. They sell at 8 different farmers’ markets in Massachusetts, including the City Hall, Harvard and Allston markets. Their two stores are located in Watertown (205 Arlington Street) and in Medford (330 Boston Avenue).

STORES

Zigo operates 2 stores and will soon open 2 more. Our first store is at One Broadway across from MIT Sloan. The second store is around the corner at the intersection of Sixth & Binney. The new stores will be at 600 Memorial Drive and at the Center for Life Science on the Longwood Medical campus.

FOOD SERVICE

Zigo provides on-site contract food services for local clients, including Google and MIT.
